

NEXT MEETING OF BUILDERS AT FOND DU LAC

George F. Hutter Elected President As Master Builders End Conclave

APPLETON MAN IS HONORED

Martin Boldt Elected Second Vice President—Adopt Resolutions

Urging that contractors who are making their estimates now for spring work take into consideration that the cost of labor will be higher, E. H. Luening of LaCrosse made the annual report of wage conditions in the state at the final session of the Master Builders of Wisconsin convention at Eagle hall on Friday morning. The business session closed shortly after noon, but arrangements were made for inspection trips to the Lutheran Aid building and the Kimberly-Clark paper mills at Kimberly.

George F. Hutter of Fond du Lac was elected president and Fond du Lac was chosen as the next convention city. Eau Claire gave the Fox River Valley city a run for the convention next year by storming the officials with telegrams. The Fond du Lac delegates announced that they were saving their money for the convention entertainment next year and got the convention.

HONOR APPLETON MAN
Other officers elected were L. W. Burch, Madison, first vice president; Martin Boldt, Appleton, second vice president; Henry Hoffschmidt, Antigo, third vice president; Anton Nielson, Menasha, fourth vice president; C. H. Ubricht, Milwaukee, secretary; H. D. Zickert, Watertown, treasurer; Richard Perge, Milwaukee, field and financial secretary. The trustees were Edward Grasse, Sheboygan; John Immel, Fond du Lac; John Van Kammen, Kenosha; William G. Williams, Milwaukee and August Pitz, Oshkosh.

A chart was put up at the Friday meeting showing the wages paid to different trades and the amount of work that most of these will be raised because of the scarcity of labor and the amount of building which will take place during the coming year. Masons range from 87 1/2 cents to $1.25; mason helper 40 to 75; carpenter, 65 to $1.12 1/2; plumber, 90 to $1; heating, 65 to $1; electrician, 90 to $1; tinner, 60 to 90; painter, 60 to 90; plasterer, $1 to $1.50.

ELECTION DELAYED
The election of officers on Thursday was somewhat delayed by the discussion of a resolution involving a split of the secretarial office into two, those of recording secretary and financial secretary. The plan was to have the recording secretary take complete control over the editing of the association bulletin, "The Master Builder," and relieve him of the work of financial and field agent work.

It was decided to adopt the budget committee's recommendation which included the election of Secretary O. H. Ubricht of Milwaukee to the office of recording secretary and editor and the election of President Richard C. Perge of Milwaukee to the office of financial and field secretary. The balloting was left to the last five minutes of the session, the result of which was to be announced at the banquet Thursday evening.

The change will relieve the recording secretary of the collection of fees, solicitation of new members and general field work. Salary allowed the recording secretary is $2,000, that for the financial secretary $2,500, to be advanced partly by the association and partly by the association's mutual casualty company.

One trustee was elected by acclamation, namely, Marvin Grasse of Sheboygan. The other trustees were to be elected by ballot. Mr. Grasse's was an unexpired term of another Sheboygan man who had died last year. A resolution was adopted changing the number of trustees from three to five and making the term of office five years, one term expiring every year.

NOMINATE OFFICERS
The members proposed for office by the nominating committee were as follows: George F. Hutter of Fond du Lac, and Emil Pautz of Janesville, for president; L. W. Burch of Madison, and E. H. Luening of La Crosse, first vice president; Martin Boldt of Appleton and Louis Hansen, Racine, second vice president; Henry Hoffschmidt, Antigo, and Joseph H. Servotte, Green Bay, third vice president; Anton Nielsen, Menasha, and Emil Wartschow, Milwaukee, fourth vice president; Robert T. Morrill, Beloit, and H. G. Zickert, Watertown, treasurer; O. H. Ubricht, Milwaukee, recording secretary; Richard Perge, Milwaukee, financial secretary; John Ahl, Madison, John Immel, Fond du Lac, Marvin Grasse, Sheboygan, E. R. Herman, C. G. Torkelson, Merrill, William Tubenshaw, Milwaukee, John VanKammen, Kenosha, William G. Williams, Milwaukee.

A resolution providing for the sending of ballots with the names of nominees for office to members of the association at least two weeks before the date of the convention was adopted.

PROBE LABOR SHORTAGE
Another resolution pledging the support of the association to congress in the investigation of shortage of labor resultant from present immigration laws was adopted.

Upon the recommendation of the budget committee a budget of $6,190 including appropriations for salaries, postage, traveling expenses, expenses

City Ends Biggest Building Year; Projects Valued At $2,500,000

BY LOUIS A. FISCHER

WITH its building activities representing an outlay of well over $2,500,000, Appleton has just passed through the largest building year of its history. In this respect Appleton shares the general building boom of the United States, a boom that is absolutely unparalleled in the nation's history. The total value of building operations in the country for 1922 is approximately $3,828,000,000, or an increase of nearly $1,000,000,000 over the year 1921 or any previous year.

Having made a record that ranks high as compared with many larger cities of the state, this city is entering upon another prosperous year of building that bids well to surpass even the banner year of 1922. The outlook, according to contractors, lumbermen, and real estate dealers, is unusually bright. If the number of new dwelling houses will equal that of the previous year, the combined building enterprises of all descriptions for 1923 will be considerably in excess of that of 1922.

MANY NEW HOMES

Probably the greatest element contributing to building enterprises of the past year was the construction of new homes for Appleton families who were fast crowded out of their former living quarters. The expenditures on this score alone aggregated more than $1,000,000. The largest individual projects were those of St. Elizabeth hospital and the Aid Association for Lutherans, the combined enterprises totaling approximately another $1,000,000. An additional investment of more than $500,000 was placed in factory additions, new stores, garages and miscellaneous buildings.

Appleton thus rivals a number of cities of the United States with a much larger population. Wilmington, Del., reported building permits amounting to $2,827,042; Augusta, Ga., $2,964,469; Tampa, Fla., $3,078,541; Lincoln, Neb., $2,852,662; Saginaw, Mich., $2,700,000; Topeka, Kans., $2,441,038; Spokane, Wash., $3,182,964; Dayton, Ohio, $3,287,219. The high marks of the year were registered by New York, $627,541,578; Chicago, $227,742,610; Los Angeles, $120,000,000; Philadelphia, $114,881,040; Detroit, $94,615,093.

It is to be doubted whether many cities in Wisconsin outside of Milwaukee excelled Appleton in the number of new homes that were built last year. One city considerably larger than Appleton a few months ago boasted nearly 100 homes constructed or under construction. Another city that also is larger reported building permits of all kinds totaling about $1,000,000.

COUNT 212 HOUSES
Although this city has no way of checking up the number of new homes by means of building permits, letter carriers of the postoffice conducted a survey of the city at frequent intervals. In the first week of last November the carriers reported a total of 196 homes built or under construction. Since the construction of additional homes was begun after that date, an inquiry was made at the various lumber companies of this city with the result that these firms reported a total of 212 homes that had been furnished by them with complete building material.

The postoffice report showed 18 new homes in the First ward, 9 new homes in the Second ward, 67 in the Third ward, 8 in the Fourth ward, 65 in the Fifth ward and 29 in the Sixth ward, showing that two thirds of the new homes were erected in the west end of the city.

PASSES MILLION
A conservative estimate of $5,000 as the price of the average home built now would bring the value of the 212 new homes up to $1,060,000. A large factor in the financing of the construction of living quarters. The expenditures on this score alone aggregated more than $1,000,000. PLAN GENERAL STRIKE; BALK AGAINST SIEGE

French General Declares Mission Of Invasion Successful

INDUSTRIES STOP MONDAY

U. S. Adopts Policy Not To Interfere With Allied Unity

Esen—General Degoutie Friday issued a proclamation from Dusseldorf establishing a state of siege throughout the newly occupied territory. The German laws, it was stipulated, would remain in force.

All the factories will close from 11 to 11:15 o'clock Monday morning in protest against the occupation. The committee directing the demonstration represents all political parties.

Railway traffic will stop for ten minutes at the same hour. The ringing of church bells and the blowing of whistles will voice the cities' indignation.

"MISSION SUCCESSFUL"
Dusseldorf—General Degoutie, commander of the movement of the military into the extended zone of occupation in the Ruhr, declared he considered his mission to have been successfully carried out.

EXPECTS RESISTANCE
Paris—The entire stoppage of the machinery set up by the Allies in Germany to supervise the carrying out of the treaty of Versailles is expected in French circles as a result of the obstruction announced by the Germans. This machinery includes the military control commission, the commission seeking missing soldiers and others.

Reports received by the foreign office indicate that the Germans will allow no more deliveries in kind, including coal.

Premier Poincare will await the result of the negotiations of the engineers sent into the Ruhr with the German coal mine operators before considering what measures to apply to such resistance.

WASHINGTON—Developments in the reparations crisis, in which further complications loom with the declaration of the department here would not say whether it approved or disapproved what Mr. Boyden had said but there is such general confidence here in Mr. Boyden's ability that no doubt need exist abroad concerning the accuracy with which Mr. Boyden reflected the thoughts of his superior officers in the American government.

Mr. Boyden is an officer of the American government himself but his status outside of Germany where world opinion would be ranged against the French.

Third, the cable dispatches from Paris to the effect that Premier Poincare did not at any time regard the messages he was receiving from Secretary Hughes through Ambassador Jusserand as a formal "proposition" are somewhat misleading. The American government made its suggestion that a committee of bankers and experts be formed to render advice on the amount of Germany's reparations and there was no doubt here of the purpose of the American government in making the proposal.

"FRANCE WILL LOSE"
Second, the United States government pointed out to Premier Poincare the futility of an invasion of the Ruhr, arguing that the amount of coal to be gained was not to be compared with the damages that would be done in Germany's best interests. The department here would not say whether it approved or disapproved what Mr. Boyden had said but there is such general confidence here in Mr. Boyden's ability that no doubt need exist abroad concerning the accuracy with which Mr. Boyden reflected the thoughts of his superior officers in the American government.

Amount Of Coal To Be Gained Will Not Overcome Enmity Of German People

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Copyright, 1922, by the Post Pub. Co.

Washington—America, like Great Britain, has left France to her own devices. Courtesy and forbearance rather than dictation to another sovereign power has guided the American government's efforts to persuade France to abandon her march on the Ruhr.

Details of America's attempt at friendly intervention in the last four weeks were disclosed Friday. They shed a new light on what has been going on under the surface and permit a clearer view of what the position of the United States government is today in the complicated world situation.

These are the essential points: First, Roland W. Boyden spoke without instructions from the department of state two days ago when he made his sensational speech at the meeting of the reparations commission pointing out that while France was legally right about Germany's having defaulted under the treaty, the fact was Germany had done the best she could. The department here would not say whether it approved or disapproved what Mr. Boyden had said but there is such general confidence here in Mr. Boyden's ability that no doubt need exist abroad concerning the accuracy with which Mr. Boyden reflected the thoughts of his superior officers in the American government.

NAMES M'KOIN AS MEMBER OF RAIDING BAND

Mayor Of Mer Rouge Testifies Against Physician And Former City Head

Bastrop, La.—Robert L. Dade, mayor of Mer Rouge Friday named Dr. E. M. McKoin, Captain J. K. Skip with, Kelly Harty and Ed. Ivey as members of a Ku Klux Klan band which held up and disarmed Watt Daniel, W. C. Andrews and Harry Neelis, Mer Rouge citizens near Gallien, La., several months prior to the kidnapping and murder of Daniel and Thomas F. Richard last August.

Bringing his narrative to the holding up of three men, Dade continued:

"Neelis, Daniel and Andrews had stopped their automobile up the road and were sitting in the car. Some of the men approached and asked them who they were."

"We were there to 'visit' them," he said. "No, there was no violence, but their guns were taken from them."

GIVEN LECTURE
Dade said the men were lectured on drinking and gambling by Captain Skipwith after being threatened with a whipping.

"Did you quit the Klan?" "Yes, sir, I was only in it two months. My friends accused me of being an informant which resulted in raids on a Negro grocer. Hooded men in daylight came into Mer Rouge and dashed into the store. They told the Negro to quit letting white men gamble in his store."

GETS WARNING LETTERS
"You received two letters after the kidnapping and final disappearance of Richard and Daniel?" "Yes, sir, they came through the mails."

Assistant Attorney General Warren read the letter because the writers did not have his glasses and could not identify them as the ones he had received. The letters were:

"To the mayor and Good Citizens of Mer Rouge:

"You are wallowing in a cesspool of corruption and lawlessness that has become a menace to the entire parish and surrounding country. You are shielding within your gates a number who live in open concubinage with the Negro women, who manufacture and sell whiskey, who formulate plots to assassinate good citizens in the night time and who are deluging the good, law abiding citizens of your parish with written and oral threats against their lives. This condition of affairs must be rectified at once, or we will swoop down upon your town and wipe out the organization that is responsible for the conditions and which are pleased to call themselves the anti-Klux Klan."

"We know every one of the men who formulated and attempted to execute the plot to assassinate Dr. McKoin. Two of them have passed into obscurity and the balance will soon follow unless they read between these lines and leave your community while the leaving is good."

"HAVE 1,000 MEN"
The other letter was almost the same with the exception of this paragraph:

"This is to notify you as mayor of Mer Rouge that we will give you ample time to clean up this lawless condition of affairs and if you fail to do so we will bring 1,000 men down there and do the job for you right."

of reception committee, etc., was adopted. It was also agreed to send the fee for banquet entertainment and other convention expenses in advance of the convention.

The address by Surt Williams on "Federal Income Tax Law and Decisions" was not given because of "Mr. Williams' being detained by the funeral of John Hazelwood, late chairman of the state highway commission.

The account of the debate between Senator H. A. Huber of Stoughton and F. H. Claussen of Horicon is found elsewhere in this issue of the Post-Crescent.

Additional resolutions were passed at the Friday morning meeting. One pledged the Master Builders of Wisconsin to spend a sum not to exceed $100 for testing the constitutionality of the law which requires contractors to state there is labor trouble when they advertise for men on a job.

One concerning the present lien law was placed on the table, while another recommending that municipalities political subdivisions and counties be required to publish the amount of their appropriations for buildings and constructions for which bids are asked was passed.

The visiting members through the resolutions committee thanked the entertainment committee and all the organizations in Appleton for the splendid entertainment which they had received.

Martin Boldt, president of the Appleton Master Builders also asked that all the people who had contributed to the success of the occasion be thanked.

Reports of the standings of various towns in their communities were given. Each of the resolutions introduced brought forth considerable discussion from the members.

A committee was appointed to confer with the Vocational school boards to determine what these schools can do toward helping to teach the trades to young men and to report back at the next convention.

CITY ENDS ITS BIGGEST YEAR OF BUILDING

Cost Of Homes And Business Blocks In 1922 Will Exceed $2,500,000

tion of these homes was Appleton Building and Loan association, this organization having advanced many thousands of dollars for that purpose. Among the homes built there are several that take their place with the stateliest and handsomest of the city.

The largest item in the building total is furnished by the new buildings of the St. Elizabeth hospital, Lake-st., still under construction. Work on this building was begun a little over a year ago by C. R. Meyer & Sons company of Oshkosh. When completed the new buildings will represent an expenditure of more than $800,000. This four-story brick structure will add to the hospital about 200 more beds and provide it with the most modern equipment.

Of major importance also is the new five-story building of the Aid Association for Lutherans, on College-ave., now nearing completion. This building, constructed of cream brick and green terra cotta trimmings at a cost of considerably more than $200,000, ranks among the largest and most beautiful in the Appleton business district. Wisconsin Construction company of Wausau had the contract. All construction already is completed, and the work of interior finishing will be ended in a few weeks.

ADD TO FACTORY

Appleton Coated Paper company, Meadest, was one of the few factories of this city to add to its buildings in 1922. The two additions constitute the largest enterprises in this field. Both buildings are constructed of steel, brick and reinforced concrete. One, consisting of three stories and basement, measures 80 by 46 feet and is intended for the warehouse and shipping room purposes; the other, consisting of two stories and basement is an addition to the finishing room building. It measures approximately 120 by 72 feet.

An entirely new factory was built at Appleton Junction by the Scolding Locks Hairpin company, one of Appleton's newest industries. This modern fireproof building, 200 by 40 feet in size, was completed in September, and is equipped with the latest designed machinery making it the most modern hairpin plant in the country. The original capacity of 10 gross a day of last April now has increased to a daily capacity of 90 gross.

Another new plant was built on Superior-st. at the rear of the Post-Crescent building. It is that of the Automotive Regrinding and Welding company. It is constructed of cement blocks and was completed last summer.

ALTER BUILDINGS

Standard Manufacturing Co., on Lowest, spent considerable money in additions to warehouse, glassroom, and shipping rooms. It also built an 18-foot elevator and is now remodeling its office.

An addition matching in design and material its main building was built last year by Appleton Wood Products company. The addition is of brick, measures 40 by 60 feet and consists of office, shipping room and warehouse space.

A building of cement blocks was erected by Joseph Alberts on the west end of College-ave. opposite the Soo Line passenger station in which he will conduct a general blacksmith business.

Additions were made to the Knoke, Thorsen and Konz lumber companies, all on west College-ave. The first-mentioned plant added a drying lumber shed that has a capacity of 200,000 feet of lumber. H. J. Thorsen company built a new lumber shed, 60 by 120 feet in dimension with a capacity of 15 to 20 carloads, and added a new office. Konz, Rox and Lumber company built a smaller addition.

All new factories and additions erected last year amounted in the aggregate to approximately $200,000.

MANY GARAGES

One of the interesting phases of the building operations of 1922 was the large number of automobile garages erected. No fewer than six garages were built or are still under construction, representing an expenditure of about $100,000.

One of the larger buildings is that of St. John Motor company which located in the city last year and built its handsome and roomy brick building 102 feet long with a 48-foot frontage on West College-ave. The cost was approximately $20,000. This garage has the agency for Maxwell, Chalmers and Gray cars.

Another large garage, but of two-story type, was established by Herrmann Motor Car company on Superior-st. between the Telephone company and the Insurance buildings. The structure is of brick, tile and steel, and the dimensions are 80 by 80 feet. The company will move from its present quarters in the old armory into the new building as soon as it is completed and will continue the sale of Jewett motor cars.

The G. R. & S. garage on Washington-st. was built by George Greisch, Ferdinand Radtke and Edward Sieg for the sale of Oakland cars. It is constructed of cement blocks with a brick front.

HELPS WEST END

Two more garages were built within short distance of each other opposite the Soo Line station on West College-ave. One is the Appleton Auto laundry, a two-story cement block building, 30 by 60 feet in size, the other the Manthey-Puth garage, 42 by 60 feet in size, also built of cement blocks and intended for automobile electrical repair services and an auto paint shop. Construction of the spacious Gibson automobile garage on College-ave. near Appletonst. has just begun and is practically a 1923 enterprise.

More than a dozen new stores and kindred business houses were built in Appleton last year, the aggregate expenditure being approximately $175,000.

Wichmann Furniture company's new building on West College-ave. heads the list in this division. It takes its place among the largest store buildings in the city as well as the largest in this section of the state. It is a three-story brick structure, has a frontage of about 55 feet and a depth of 120 feet. The balcony around the main floor actually gives four floors of display space, besides the basement.

NEW CREAMERY

The Valley Dairy Products company established itself in the city with the construction of a two-story cement block building with a fancy brick front on State-st. The building is of considerable depth.

A cement block duplex store building was built by Louis Kaminsky at the College-ave. ravine. This building contains two stories and room for two stores on the main floor.

Another College-ave. business establishment built last year is that of Appleton Shop Repair Service, built of brick throughout. Hackleman Jewelry store, also of brick, was built on the west end of the same street and the east half of the building serves as the store of Klein & Shimek, plumbers. Laabs & Shepherd completed their brick and concrete real estate office in the early part of 1922. A fireproof garage and storage building was erected for the H. Rademacher grocery store on Superior-st.

Grocery stores were built by George Koehler on Elsie-st. (two stories) Walter Feavel on Summer-st. (two stories) William Agen on Gilmore-st. Arnold Hoerning on Brewster-st. Other new grocery stores are Chudacoff grocery on Second-ave. Young grocery on Story-st. and others.

CLUBHOUSE AND CHURCH

Two other important buildings erected last year are the Riverview Country club villa and the Moses Montefiori Jewish synagogue. These two structures add nearly another $50,000 to the total outlay for building purposes in Appleton. A large and handsome home was built by Dr. D. J. O'Connor. Two new filling stations, the West End Filling station and Haskett's filling station on Foster-st. are not to be forgotten, nor a number of private garages unaccounted for.

The foregoing was entirely in reference to new construction and did not include a large amount of remodeling involving many thousands of dollars, that took place in the First Trust company's new quarters, the Congress cafe, Carr and Hansen billiard hall, Meyer-Seeger music store, Elite theater, Majestic theater, Conway hotel, W. S. Patterson company, Philip Crabb grocery at Appleton Junction, the gas plant, waterworks plant, and other establishments, all of which necessitated the purchase of building material and provided for labor.

1923 LOOMS BIGGER

Looking forward into the year 1923, the builder sees new opportunities opening up that promise to surpass those of 1922. If the plans of the city council, the board of education, several churches, fraternal organizations and business institutions mature, another $2,000,000 investment may be looked for in that field alone, without considering the construction of new homes.

A few of these projects, any of which may become a certainty before long are two bridges over the Fox river, at a cost of approximately $300,000; two junior high schools, $425,000; Traction company office building, $400,000; new Methodist church, $250,000; Masonic temple, $125,000; Hotel Appleton, eight-story addition, $200,000; Christian Science church, seating 500 persons; three-story dormitory; addition over swimming pool of the Y. M. C. A. Eagle hall addition, $20,000; Lawrence college gymnasium; George Walsh company store.

With this situation in view Appleton may look for ample employment of labor, and the forecast of experts is that the price of labor will be upward in the spring, if building operations throughout the state and country assume the proportions anticipated. There is no indication of a decrease in building costs, but a shortage of labor is imminent in some of the larger cities, according to a national building survey.

THE TRUTH AND THE BRIDGE

A great many truths, half-truths and untruths have been uttered in Appleton since the Post-Crescent suggested that it might be wisdom on the part of the common council to ascertain definitely whether the taxpayers, who must pay the bills, want to go through with the administration's bridge program at this time. It is true the bridge problem has been discussed for many months; it is true a referendum conducted by The Post-Crescent indicated a large sentiment for a bridge at Cherry street; it is true also that some new considerations, most important of which is the highway commission's plan to relocate Highway 15, have been injected into the problem.

It is not true that The Post-Crescent is urging the council to defer its program if necessity for a bridge still exists. It is urging, however, that the council shall not act until it is sure there is no other way to take care of the traffic across the present Lake street bridge and until the taxpayers have had an opportunity to say whether they wish to finance an extensive bridge program at a time when they are confronted with the probability of increased taxes because of the necessity for erecting new school buildings. Perhaps the taxpayers are willing that bridges be built now. If they are, the council should not lose another minute in giving the people all they can for their money. If they are not, the council should respect their wishes.

The Post-Crescent believes the highway commission's plan to pave the road on the west side of the river between Appleton and Neenah and relocate Highway 15 over it, will result in diverting sufficient traffic from the present Lake street bridge to eliminate the congestion which has been one of the principal arguments for construction of a new bridge. It believes that 50 per cent of the vehicles that ordinarily travel over the Menasha road will use the new highway when it is improved. It believes the reduction in traffic over the bridge will be sufficient to remove the present crowded condition and the structure will be adequate for the city's needs for at least a few years more. It believes the common council should make a sincere effort to learn definitely what the highway commission's plans are for relocating the highway and when the work will be commenced. The Post-Crescent believes the proposed rerouting of Highway 15 is the most important consideration in determining whether a bridge should be built at this time.

In his discussion of bridges in Appleton before the Rotary club last Tuesday noon City Engineer Weissgerber said that a municipality may route a state trunk highway over any streets that it chooses and that the highway commission brings the highway to a city's boundaries and that the municipality may send the traffic over any street or streets to its other boundary. If that were true the highway commission would be powerless to change the location of Highway 15 inasmuch as that highway must enter Neenah before it can reach the west road to Appleton. Neenah and Menasha, no doubt, would send the traffic through their business sections, in spite of the highway commission's objections, if they had the power to locate the highway within their boundaries.

But the law does not give this jurisdiction to municipalities. It states very plainly that the highway commission, and the highway commission alone, has the power to select a trunk highway and to place the markers, in cities and villages as well as in the country districts.

Chapter 76a, section 1313, defines the highway commission's jurisdiction as follows:

After the final selection of the trunk system, the highway commission shall cause the various lines of highway comprising such system, including the connecting streets in cities and villages, to be distinctly marked with some standard design placed on convenient objects along the route.

No further routes shall be marked within or through the state until an exact description of the routes selected for marking have been filed with the commission and the route and marking approved by it.

While it is always the policy of the highway commission to cooperate with municipalities in routing trunk roads through cities, still it must be evident to every person that the commission must have jurisdiction to prevent routing of highways for political or personal reasons. State trunk highways in cities might well be political footballs, changed by each succeeding administration, if the state commission had no voice in selection of the routes. It is well that the law does confine the routing of highways to the commission and not to city governments.

Taxpayers of Appleton are finding it sufficiently difficult to reach a conclusion to their bridge discussion without having misstatements injected into it. The Post-Crescent believes this is a taxpayers' problem and they should have all the facts presented to them.

This newspaper is endeavoring to present the facts. Its columns are open to every person who wishes to express his views. The bridge problem should be solved on facts, not on sentiment.

THE IDEAL OF SARAH BERNHARDT

Word comes from France that the world-celebrated tragedienne, Sarah Bernhardt, one of the greatest actresses of all time, is virtually penniless. Her present illness may be her last, and it may be her fate, after garnering in millions of dollars from the theater-goers of America and all countries of Europe, to die, not in want, but maintained by the largesse of friends and admirers.

Her fortune was dissipated, it is said, in losses through business investments made by her son. But it cannot be conjectured that all of her money was swept away by mischance in commercial venture. Madame doubtless lived expensively and spent freely, and it is not at all improbable that her investments were small, compared with her enormous income during a long, busy and most successful career.

Artists are intensely interested in their fascinating pursuits, and though some of them manage to store a little surplus away in a safe place, as a class they have but a vague idea of the value of money. Moreover, they feel that their captivating power will always be at their disposal to charm from the public sufficient capital to fend off distress.

Hardship would impress artists and professional men, it would seem, with the poignant reality of distress and suffering. They fight against odds to get started on the way to success. They barely exist from day to day, in some cases for years, before their receipts equal their expenses. Some of them even almost despair; some do turn, in discouragement, to other employment.

These misfortunes have no meaning to artists. They go as they come. There is always a hope that a bright day is coming. The ups and downs are just phases of life as it is. Art is the real object of importance, and money is only a means to improve and brighten it. The "Divine Sarah" is believed to be one million francs in debt. The obligation would be a trifle—if she had youth and strength. But she is ill and aged. It is the old story of the exploitation of an art for the sake of art alone.

TAX FREE SECURITIES

Secretary of the Treasury Mellon has advanced a course of action which is sure to meet with the approval of the rank and file of the American people when he urges that a constitutional amendment be submitted to the state legislature barring the further tax exemption of securities by congress.

During the war there was an excuse for the exemption from income and surtaxes of the various government bonds floated for the purpose of providing funds with which to carry on the conflict. Tax exemption provided a means of making an issue of government bonds especially attractive and their ready sale at a high figure was assured.

The coming of peace has changed all this. There is no longer any excuse for permitting the issuance of tax free securities. The exigencies of the war period are over and the only effect of issuing tax exempt securities now is to encourage tax dodging. By means of tax exempt securities a man of wealth is able to so invest his money that he is untouched by the government taxing machinery, while a less fortunate individual, working on a salary, is obliged to pay to the federal treasury a stated portion of his income.

Tax exempt securities had their place in the wartime scheme of things. Their place has disappeared, however, and if congress senses the will of the people aright, it will act on Secretary Mellon's recommendation.

ALL WOMEN

What asks one of them, causes those unselfish brown spots on one's face? I have had them for years. I asked our doctor what I could do to remove them and he suggested rubbing lemon on them. He said all women were subject to them.

And another of them remarks in the course of her complaint about pain; "I know all women suffer some way or another."

If the doctor said all women are subject to brown spots he greatly exaggerated, for as a matter of fact a great many women have no such spots. If the young woman fancies that all women suffer some way or other her education is bad, for as a matter of fact most healthy women suffer not at all.

Good, honest instruction or education concerning sex is unfortunately taboo in most homes, and so our young women must pick up what crumbs they can find. Some of the ideas that young women acquire are positively frightful and most cruel.

To go back to the brown spots, they are not at all peculiar to women; such spots are nearly as prevalent among men. The only reason why women are most frequently subject to such spots, I think is that women do not unbend and get exercise as regularly as men do.

Oh, there are plenty of men too lazy to unbend. But as I say, men often have brown spots.

The spots are insignia of toxemia—poison accumulated in the blood. Maybe it will sound less alarming to call it auto intoxication—but understand, please, that it has nothing to do with regularity of intestinal evacuation. Just some of old half-burned stuff retained in the system, because metabolism is too slow, oxidation or combustion incomplete, blood withdrawn from circulation and stagnating in the great splanchnic pool. Yes, surely, the liver is part of the pool, but the liver isn't to blame for the stagnation, mind.

So far as returning the stagnating blood to circulation is concerned the quickest and pleasant way I know to do it is by rolling a dozen or two somersaults every night and every morning. Roll 'em forward, then backward if your arteries are not too stiff. I am certainly a conservative man, but I unhesitatingly report that a month of somersaults has knocked the spots off many an auto-intoxicated woman's fair skin, to mention one of the least of the benefits from these health rolls.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Oleo Versus Butter

I would like your advice as to whether oleomargarine or creamery is best for growing children. We have always used oleo and I cannot see but what our children are as healthy and strong as other children. But some people say oleo is not good for children.—Mrs. E. H. P.

Answer—Of course butter is a better food for any one. Oleo is a perfectly wholesome food for children and the children will grow and thrive quite as well on oleo, provided each child drinks not less than a pint of fresh milk every day, to obtain the vitamins in which fresh milk is rich and oleo is poor or lacking. Butter is a natural source of vitamins. The animal and vegetable fats from which oleo is made are very poor in vitamins. Good oleo at half the price of good butter is good economy if you freely use fresh milk which is also good economy.

Most Buying Is Done By Women

(From The Pittsburgh Dispatch.)

At a building and loan association convention in New York recently a woman speaker asserted that 85 per cent of money expenditures are by women. This is a high percentage. But it may be true. Business affairs carried on by men settle their money balances with checks, notes and drafts rather than cash.

The proof of the cash purchasing power of women is apparent at the stores and shops. At the department stores are 10 women to one man purchaser. At the women's departments there are few men purchasers, but at the men's departments the majority of the purchases are made by women. This also applies to the smaller shops. At the butcher's, the grocers and baker's the customers are almost all women.

About the only line of retail shops where the men greatly outnumber the women is the cigar stores and the exclusive men's furnishing goods and tailor shops. Even at these there are many woman purchasers, while hardly a man is ever seen at a millinery shop or a dressmaker's.

Men do not seem to get the same pleasure in buying as women do. Few men shop. They have in mind what they want or they let the salesman sell them what the salesman wants. It takes fewer salesmen to wait on men customers than on the same number of women customers.

Such facts as these are an indication of the economic dominations of women. Mrs. Belmont, president of the National Woman's party, says that "henceforth women are to be dictators." Is not the "henceforth" rather superfluous?

Q. Can a United States retired soldier reside in Old Mexico and still draw his pension from the United States Government? W. G.

A. The Pension Bureau says that a pensioner can reside in a foreign country and continue to draw his pension. Notice of change of address should be sent to the Commissioner of Pensions, Pension Bureau, Washington, D. C.

Q. Why does wood alcohol poisoning so often result in blindness? L. M. C.

A. Wood alcohol acts on the blood vessels, causing hemorrhages. The tiny arteries of the retina of the eye are often ruptured, causing loss of sight.

Q. What is steam, and is it visible? H. P. H.

A. Steam is the invisible gas into which water is converted when heated to the boiling point. The white cloud of vapor which rises from boiling water, commonly called steam, is a vapor composed of small particles of water suspended in air and formed by the condensation of the true steam gas coming in contact with the cool air. When water is subjected to the action of heat, it is converted into invisible steam gas. Watch a kettle of boiling water and you will note that the vapor does not appear directly at the spout of the kettle but an inch or so away from it.

Q. Who was "Old Prob"? F. D. W.

A. Prof. Cleveland Abbe, the first man to undertake to forecast weather "probabilities," was known as "Old Prob." Prof. Abbe began this work in 1889 for the Chamber of Commerce when he was the director of the Cincinnati Observatory. Later and for many years he was identified with the United States Weather Bureau. He died in 1915.

Q. Is the letter "a" the first letter of every alphabet? H. P.

A. "A" is the first letter of all alphabets except the Old German, or Runic, in which it comes fourth, and the Ethiopian, in which it is the thirteenth.

Q. How large are the Chicago Stockyards? J. F. S.

A. The Chicago Stockyards are the largest of their kind in the world, embracing some 500 acres of ground and representing about seventy million dollars invested capital. About 8,000,000 hogs, 2,500,000 cattle, and 6,000,000 sheep are received and slaughtered there annually.

Q. What is the A B C Process? E. Y. H.

A. The A B C Process is a method of purifying sewerage by sulphate of alumina, blood, charcoal, and clay.

How Sitting Bull Ended His Days

By E. A. Brininstool

The old medicine-man was yet asleep when the police arrived, but he was quickly aroused and told that he was under arrest and must accompany the police. He readily agreed to go with them, and while dressing gave orders to have his favorite horse saddled and brought to the door, which was done. He then stepped outside his cabin, closely followed by a cordon of the police with drawn revolvers.

Here his son, Crow Foot, a youth of seventeen, seeing that his father intended to make no resistance, taunted him with cowardice. By this time about a hundred and fifty of Sitting Bull's followers had congregated about the cabin, and the old medicine-man stung to the quick at the sarcastic remarks of his son, screamed out an order to attack the police.

Immediately two shots were fired by Sitting Bull's adherents, and in an instant the battle was on. Lieut. Bull Head, although mortally wounded, immediately wheeled and shot the medicine-man through the body, while Second Serg. Red Tomahawk shot him in the right cheek, killing him instantly. Sitting Bull's medicine had failed him at last.

A bloody fight followed between the Indian Police and their red brethren before the white troops arrived. Eight of the hostiles were killed and five wounded, while five or six of the police were killed.

This was the forerunner of the real war which followed on December 29th, known as the Battle of Wounded Knee—probably the last Indian war to be fought in the United States—in which nearly one hundred and fifty of the Sioux, men, women and children, were slain, while the loss to the troops was some thirty killed and as many more wounded.

The body of Sitting Bull was buried a few hundred yards south of the military cemetery at Standing Rock Reservation and thus passed the greatest disturber of the Sioux nation—an Indian who steadily refused to travel the white man's road and become reconciled to his mode of life.—From Adventure Magazine for January.

ROTARY INTERESTS CITY BUSINESSMEN

Merchants, Manufacturers And Professional Men Study New Club

Kaukauna—A great deal of interest is being manifested by local business men in the Rotary club which is being organized in this city. Men in every section of the city are asking as to the purpose of the club, what it is, who may belong and how membership is secured.

Membership is usually limited to one representative of a profession, trade or business and membership is secured only through invitation from a man already a member of the organization. Each member is benefited by contact with representatives from each distinct line of business or profession and is enabled thereby to meet more intelligently the responsibilities of civic and business life.

The Rotary platform in part says: "The basis of club membership insures the representation of all the interests and the domination of none in the consideration of public questions relating to business. On account of its limited membership the Rotary club does not constitute itself the voice of the community on question of general importance, but its action on the questions is of great influence in advancing the civic and business welfare of the community."

"The Rotary club demands fair dealings, honest methods, high standards in business. No obligation, actual or implied, to influence business, exists in Rotary. Elections to membership therein is an expression of confidence of the club in the member elected and of its good will toward him. As his business is an expression of himself, he is expected to actively represent it."

REELECT MARTENS PRESIDENT OF BANK

Kaukauna—Julius J. Martens was reelected president of the First National bank at the annual meeting held Wednesday evening. Three new directors were added to the board, increasing it to eleven members. The new members are Paul A. Smith, Joseph W. LeFevre, Gus W. Ristau. Old members of the board who were reelected are Julius J. Martens, John Coppes, Charles E. Raught, Peter Renn, Anton Mankosky, Judeon G. Rosebush and John M. Shure. Yes, Pretty Hair in Appleton Now

But—only a few months ago only 2 women in 8 had it

How simple scientific discovery brought new beauty and fresh charm to thousands

Only a few months ago we offered women here new hair—lustrous, beautiful, alluring—under written guarantee.

Now your city is becoming known as a city of women with beautiful hair. Wherever you look—in the shops, the theatres, the restaurants—you see it. Thousands are basking in the delight of a new-found beauty.

You, too, can have it if you wish. For we make you the same offer we made them. That is, new hair grown in 90 days; falling hair stopped—or money refunded. So it is folly not to try at least to have it.

New principles

Science has recently made amazing discoveries. It is now known that hair roots seldom die. They can be revived—given new life.

We have proved that conclusively by growing hair on 91 heads in 100. The method we use is new. Years of exhaustive laboratory experiments were spent perfecting it.

Now world-great dermatologists employ these ingredients. Some charge $500 for the same basic treatment.

The infected Sebum in your hair

Sebum is an oil. It forms at the follicles of the hair. Its natural function is to supply the hair with oil. But, oddly, it is also the source of most hair troubles.

On exposure to the air it decomposes. It forms fatty acids, which gradually inflame and irritate the scalp. Frequently too it becomes infected. It clogs the scalp; clogs the follicles and plugs them. Go to the mirror and you can see it in your hair, either in the form of dandruff or in that of an oily excretion at the hair roots.

Germs by the millions breed in it. Then they feed upon the hair. Soon it begins falling. You note, too, how lifeless your hair appears. In a short time, all the natural lustre and beauty are gone.

But—and note this scientific fact—remove the infected Sebum and the hair reverts back to the softness and brilliancy it displayed when you were a school girl.

The Van Ess treatment accomplishes that result. We know you will doubt it. So we guarantee it.

New hair grown in 90 days. Falling hair stopped. Your own druggist gives you our guarantee to do these things. He signs it. If we fail, your money will be refunded without argument.

Go to any druggist or department store today. Ask for the Van Ess Liquid Scalp Massage. Written guarantee accompanies each 3-bottle purchase.

You do not shake it on. You rub it in.

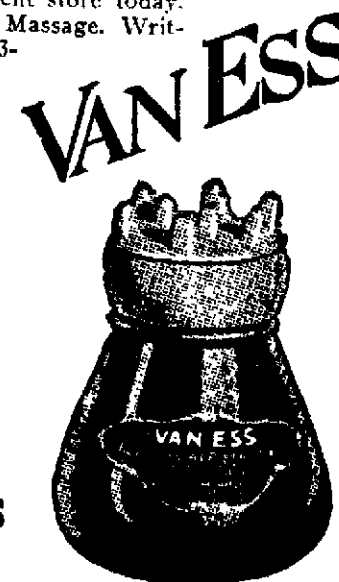

Note This New Way

It massages the treatment directly to the follicles of the hair

You can see from illustration that Van Ess is not a "tonic." It combines a massage and lotion in one treatment. You do not rub it in with your fingers. Each package comes with a rubber massage cap. The nipples are hollow. Just invert bottle, rub your head, and nipples automatically feed lotion down to the follicles of the scalp where it can do real good. At the same time the nipples give your head a massage.

It is very easy to apply. One minute each day is enough.

HEALTH NURSE ONE OF CITY'S URGENT NEEDS

Welfare Council Discusses Future And Hears Reports Of Past

Urging that some organization take a definite step in the demonstration of what a public health nurse can do in Appleton, Miss Nellie Van Kooy, field representative of the Wisconsin Anti-Tuberculosis association, talked to the Appleton Welfare council at its meeting on Thursday afternoon in the Vocational school. Miss Van Kooy, who has had experience in private duty and army nursing as well as in public health work, told the council of many of the problems that they will have to face if they want to put on a public health program.

The meeting of the workers was called for 2 o'clock and reports of all the organizations included in the Good Fellow fund were made. With the exception of the workers said that this Christmas was the most successful from the welfare standpoint that Appleton has ever seen. They were enthusiastic about the splendid way in which they had been able to cooperate through the central office which had records of all the families cared for by all the organizations. The council went on record as favoring the centralized system and in favor of always having the work handled through one volunteer worker, who could keep a record of activities of all the organizations.

APPROVE CLOTHES STATION

Great enthusiasm was also shown by the workers concerning the efforts which had been made to establish a clothes station where children and adults from needy families could be fitted with clothes. The report of the secretary Miss Ann Helm showed that 35 children and 5 adults had been fitted since just before Christmas.

Reports also were given of the activities of several individuals in looking care of families at Christmas time. A total of ten families were taken care of at Christmas time. Special mention was made of the party given for the small boys of needy families by Beta Sigma Phi Fraternity at Lawrence college. Kappa Delta sorority also helped in the Christmas giving.

LONG DISCUSSION

Miss Van Kooy finished the address which she had planned for the Welfare council, but when she stopped so many questions were asked her by the workers that the council meeting continued until 5 o'clock. Out of her vast nursing of many kinds, Miss Van Kooy was able to give a great deal of information to the volunteer workers here. She suggested that Mrs. Martha Riley of the state board of health be asked to talk to the council on social disease problems. Problems of this kind are coming to the attention of the council and positive evidence of their relation to the community at large has been demonstrated by the work of Mrs. Mildred Gardner, Appleton's policeman.

The speaker told of the splendid progress that has been made in Milwaukee in public health lines which made that city the third healthiest in the United States. She told of the work that Madison has done since it employed Dr. Brumbaugh as its fulltime health physician and since he had been directing the work of Madison's seven public health nurses. Miss Van Kooy said that while Appleton was fortunate to have one school nurse, that a city of this size needs four in order to do just the school nursing adequately.

CAN'T DO EVERYTHING

"When we start a health program," said Miss Van Kooy, "We must not lead the people to think that one nurse can do all the work. We must set a small piece of work as her goal which she can fill adequately and her success in that work will demonstrate how much more there is to be done and how other nurses can do it. When we are ready for a public health nurse, one of the biggest problems is to find the right person. I recommend that we only take on a public health nurse who has not had special training in this line."

The report of the community Christmas tree was given by H. P. Buck. This report was accepted and filed in the minutes of the Welfare council in order that it may be of assistance to other committees which will have charge of the community trees in years to come.

Great For Bad Coughs and Colds

Make Your Own Medicine and Have the Best There Is.

You'll Say It's Good When All Mucus Disappears and Clean Healthy Membrane Is Your Reward.

Here is an inexpensive home made remedy that you can't beat and one that will quickly bring up that phlegm, stop the snuffling, relieve the clogged nostrils, make breathing easy and cause stubborn colds and persistent coughs to vacate—many times over night.

Try it right away if you suffer from Catarrh, Chest Colds or any irritating nose or throat troubles and you'll be glad you run across this little of advice.

Get from any druggist, one ounce of Peppermint (double strength) add to it a little sugar and enough sugar water to make one half pint. You can make it in two minutes and when it is mixed you can pride yourself on having a medicine that acts directly on the membrane of the nose and throat and acts so effectively that all phlegm, all tickling and inflammation speedily disappears. adv.

GOLDEN RULE, NOT COERCION, MUST BE BUSINESS GUIDE

Speaker Warns Master Builders Against Extension Of Union Labor

"You may worship God as you please, you may vote as you please, but if you cannot earn a living in this country as you please," what good do the other two do you?" asked E. H. Davidson of St. Paul, Minn. In his address to the Master Builders of Wisconsin at their convention banquet at Eagle hall Thursday evening. The hall was filled to capacity for the banquet which was considered a great success by the visitors and by the Appleton committee as well. Many women also were present at the banquet.

"We must adopt the standard for our business that is on the American dollar. 'In God We Trust,'" said Mr. Davidson. "If we are to have production and prosperity that is permanent, we must have greater cooperation with God, not unemployment insurance."

RAPS LABOR UNIONS

The speaker decried the conditions in American unions which have made it possible for such great commercial disasters as the recent coal strike. He told the Master Builders that the closed shop with Mr. Gompers as the head of the labor unions was what was doing the greatest harm to American industry today. He said millions of dollars of taxes are being paid by the people of the United States today because of the control of the closed shop.

Mr. Davidson said that if the closed shop were to continue to be stronger than the government as it is now in preventing legislation which the unions do not favor that it would bring about conditions similar to those in Russia. He told the builders that these conditions can be met only on the principle of the Golden Rule rather than on the basis of coercion.

SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

IT'S GRANDMOTHER'S RECIPE TO BRING BACK COLOR AND LUSTRE TO HAIR

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray or streaked, just an application of two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the mixture; you can get this famous old recipe improved by the addition of other ingredients at a small cost, all ready for use. It is called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color and lustre of your hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's" Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time, by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy and lustrous. adv.

As clean as your rugs

Many women give less attention to cleaning their upholstered furniture than to their rugs, simply because this kind of cleaning is so much harder. But with the Royal Electric Cleaner, it's just as easy to clean a Morris chair as a Persian rug.

We would like to show you how thoroughly the Royal cleans your furniture. Just telephone—and our demonstrator will call and clean a davenport for you, and show you the amount of dirt the powerful air cleaning of the Royal will take out.

I SPIED TODAY

NEW PARKING PLACE
I came down College ave on Wednesday afternoon to see a number of cars parked on the sidewalk from the Saecker-Diederich store to Gmeiner's store. This was just a temporary parking place while the snow was being removed from the street.

JUST BETWEEN FRIENDS
Saturday afternoon three girls were standing in front of Gloudeeman's store talking when one of them pulled her handkerchief out of her pocket and with it came a dollar bill. The girl who dropped it did not see it, but one of the others saw it and put her foot over it. After a few moments, two of the girls went on and the one who had been holding down the dollar looked around to see who was watching her and then stopped to pick up the money.

SIGN OF EARLY SPRING
When I was visiting in Newsham on Wednesday, I spied a group of about 15 wild ducks flying north. This is said to be a certain sign of an early spring.

THE TOURISTS AGAIN
A Ford coupe bearing an Ohio 1923 license was parked in front of the post office on Thursday evening. The car was splattered with mud and I think the license number was 399 610.

PROBABLY COST 15 CENTS
Wednesday night I was in a barber shop and heard a grocer tell a story that should be broadcasted. A man came to the grocer's home early Sunday morning, about 5:30 in fact, and asked him to come over to the store to sell him an order of groceries. The grocer declined but the man was so insistent that he finally got dressed and went with him to the store. He ordered three pounds of oatmeal and that was all.

TAKES ALONG EVIDENCE
Thursday noon I was going down Second when a Ford touring car bearing the license 96653 ran into an Airdale dog. The car kept on going, but when the driver saw that the dog was stretched out in the middle of the road, he came back, picked up the dog and threw him in the back seat and drove away.

LOVE'S YOUNG DREAM
Even a slide on the ice behind the woodshed did not halt the performance which several other workmen and I see every morning on our way to work at Appleton Junction. An elderly man kisses and hugs his wife-to-be behind the tool shed every morning before he goes to work. Thursday morning because of the snow they slipped and fell, but that did not halt the farewell at all.

SUCH IS MARRIED LIFE
As I was walking down Lawrence-st last evening, I noticed a lady a half block ahead of me, carrying a suit case evidently going on a trip. About 3 yards behind her was a young man walking along unconcerned. As she neared the corner, the street car approached and the young man dashed by and snatches the suit case from her and runs ahead to stop the car. A case of chivalry? Not at all, as the young man who was plodding along behind happened to be her husband.

HE FEEDS BIRDS
I saw the proprietor of the Coney Island Weiner stand when he came out of his shop with a handful of crumbs. He placed them on a pile on the sidewalk and immediately the birds began to gather around to eat them.

TWICE IN SAME PLACE
While returning home from the theatre last evening I saw a young man so hurring down the street. Just before reaching the Elite he evidently lost his sense of equilibrium for he tried desperately to grasp some sort of support out of the air. He fell heavily to the ground. He picked himself up somewhat gingerly and looked around to see if anyone had witnessed the catastrophe. No sooner, however, had he regained his feet than earth again rose up to meet him.

EARLY APRIL POOL JOKE
Two youngsters, a boy and a girl, had a large time fooling two high school girls at 4:30 Thursday afternoon. The children found a bag and filled it partly full of snow. They placed it on the sidewalk as though some one had dropped it. Then they hid behind trees to watch. Two high school girls came along, picked up the bag and found that the joke was on them. They threw the bag at a tree and it happened to be the one behind which one of the children was hiding.

Was a Good Judge of Liquor

"Since a young man I had a liking for liquor and was considered a pretty good judge of it at one time, but constant drinking gave me stomach trouble which became chronic. My stomach would have been a valuable addition to a gas factory. Doctors did not seem to relieve me. One day my druggist got me to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, and I am now as good as new. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. For sale at all druggists."

DOUBLED AMOUNT OF LOANS FOR NEW HOMES LAST YEAR

Building And Loan Association
Has Splendid Report—
Reelect Officers

No changes were made in the directorate or officials of Appleton Building and Loan association, which had a large attendance of stockholders at its annual meeting in the city hall Thursday evening.

Perhaps the most interesting feature of the meeting was the report of George H. Beckley, secretary, which showed that the association loaned during 1922 almost double the amount of 1921 for new homes, due to growth in number of shares of stock from 2,610 to 3,453. The 1922 loans totaled $33,950 and those of 1921 amounted to $60,500.

Reserves also were built so that the funds for contingent losses and administrative expenses now are increased from $1,651.38 to $2,523.52. Assets have grown from $93,130.99 in 1921 to $112,848.27 in 1922. The report is to be printed in full so all stockholders may know the splendid condition of the association's affairs.

J. J. Plank, L. O. Hansen and H. A. Gloudehans, whose terms as directors expired, were reelected. The appraisal committee will consist of Daniel P. Steinberg, L. O. Hansen and Philip Weisenbach; the schedule committee, H. A. Gloudehans, John R. Diderich and J. J. Plank.

Officers reelected by the directors after the stockholders' meeting adjourned are: John J. Sherman, president; George H. Beckley, secretary; Miss Katherine Beelen, assistant secretary; E. C. Hilbert, treasurer. Morgan and Johns were retained as attorneys for the year.

CONGREGATIONAL PEOPLE HEAR ANNUAL REPORTS

The first section of the annual meeting of the Congregational church was held Thursday evening in the church. Reports were submitted by the board of trustees, the treasurer, finance and membership committees and the Sunday school. The last section of the meeting will be held next Thursday evening, when the whole congregation will gather for supper with the meeting following.

KRUG AND GEE ARE AD CLUB SPEAKERS

Campaigns And Preparation Of Advertising Are Described
At Luncheon

E. H. Krug, secretary of Scolding Locks Hairpin company, and Ralph Gee, advertising manager of the Post-Crescent, were the speakers at the luncheon of Appleton Advertising club in Conway hotel Thursday noon.

Fifteen women were guests of the club at the dinner. The organization is to be opened to women and it is possible some may join.

Mr. Krug outlined the procedure adopted by his company in establishing sale of its product after manufacture was started. Jobbers did not show a willingness to stock the Appleton hairpin, he said, until advertising had appeared in the rotogravure section of a Chicago Sunday newspaper. National mediums that appeal to women are to be used to build the sales.

Mr. Gee explained the evolution of the newspaper advertisement and amazed some of his hearers when he named the many steps which are taken in preparation for printing. He traced the progress of the original copy by the advertising writer

SALTS FINE FOR ACHING KIDNEYS

When Back Hurts Flush Your Kidneys as You Clean
Your Bowels

Most folks forget that the kidneys, like the bowels, sometimes get sluggish and clogged and need a flushing occasionally, else we have backache and dull misery in the kidney region, severe headaches, rheumatic twinges, torpid liver, acid stomach, sleeplessness and all sorts of bladder disorders.

You simply must keep your kidneys active and clean and the moment you feel an ache or pain in the kidney region begin drinking lots of water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good drug store here, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and is intended to flush clogged kidneys and help stimulate them to activity. It also helps neutralize the acids in the urine so they no longer irritate, thus helping to relieve bladder disorders.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; makes a delightful effervescent lithia water drink which everybody should take now and then to help keep their kidneys clean.

A well-known local druggist says he sells lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in trying to correct kidney trouble while it is only trouble. By all means have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

WOMEN OF THREE GENERATIONS

The daughter, mother and grandmother have all proved from personal experience the remarkable strengthening and tonic properties of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in overcoming the ills of women. It was first made from roots and herbs in 1873 by Lydia E. Pinkham of Lynn, Mass., for her neighbors and friends. Its fame has spread from shore to shore until it is now looked upon by women everywhere as the standard remedy for women's ills. It has been proved that it benefits 98 out of every 100 women who try it, which is a marvellous record for any remedy to hold.

UNUSUAL VALUES Thruout Our Store.

No matter how stoutly people maintain that they resent having anything "put over on them," they really only resent it when the "putting over" is so blunt that it can't possibly pass for anything else.

This holds good of so-called "sales." The secret of "sales" is merely this: A merchant marks up his prices enough to permit an apparent slashing during the "sale," these "sale" prices being the prices that should have prevailed right along. So the public pays inflated prices eleven months in the year to get "sale" prices one month.

Our policy is to have absolutely rock-bottom prices every day in the year. Every day is a real "sale" day in our 371 Stores.

My Baby Skin

Soft and rosy as 40 years ago. Due to a new-type clay
By Edna Wallace Hopper

Almost any girl one-fourth my age might envy my complexion. Its color, its texture, its smoothness and its bloom. Yet I have been a star in musical comedy for more than 30 years.

Today I am famous the country over for the beauty I retain. I look like a girl of 19.

I owe this to my mother. She traveled half the world over with me in search for supreme beauty helps. We found them, and they made me what I am.

Now, as a duty, I am telling the facts to all. And I have arranged to supply all women the very helps I use, as I have long done to my friends.

First—Youth Clay
I owe my complexion, above all else, to a clay I found in France. Clay was then a novelty, used by famous beauties only. And that clay largely made their fame.

Now countless women use a clay. Any woman who does not never looks her best. Complexion clay is a recognized essential. No woman will omit it when she once knows what it does.

But they use what I first used—a white and muddy clay. Thanks to science, I have today something ten times better.

CAPTAIN BLOOD

by Rafael Sabatini

© RAFAEL SABATINI
ARTIST: NEA SERVICE

"Which is less than the swine deserve," growled Wolverstone.
"Oh, laugh! I've no stomach for cold-blooded killing," said Blood. "At daybreak pack the Spaniards into a boat with a keg of water and a sack of dumplings, and let them go to the devil!"

CHAPTER XIII TORTUGA

It was no part of the design of Blood to join hands with the bu-caneers who, under a semi-official French protection, made of Tortuga a fair whence they could sail out to drive their merciless piratical trade chiefly at the expense of Spain.

It was Blood's original intention to make his way to France or Holland.
But in the long weeks of waiting for a ship to convey him to one or the other of these countries, his resources dwindled and finally vanished.

Temptations proceeded not only from adventurous buccaneering acquaintances in the taverns of that evil haven of Tortuga, but even from M. d'Ogeron, the governor of the island, who levied as his harbor dues a percentage of one-tenth of all spoils brought into the bay.

Moreover, to a man, those who had escaped with Peter Blood from the Barbados plantations, and who knew not whether to turn, were all resolved upon joining the great Brethren of the Coast, as those rovers called themselves. And they united theirs to the other voices that were persuading Blood, demanding that he should continue now in the leadership which he had enjoyed since they had left Barbados, and swearing to follow him loyally whithersoever he should lead them.

The resolve being taken, he went actively to work. Ogeron advanced him money for the proper equipment of his ship the Cinco Lagas, which he renamed the Arabella.

To the score of followers he already possessed, he added three score more. With them he entered into the articles usual among the Brethren of the Coast under which each man was to be paid by a share in the prizes captured.

Toward the end of December when the hurricane season had blown itself out, he put to sea and before he returned in the following May, from a protracted and adventurous cruise, the fame of Captain Peter Blood had run like ripples before the breeze across the face of the Caribbean Sea.

One day, as Captain Blood sat with Hagthorpe and Wolverstone over a pipe and a bottle of rum in the sitting room of his stateroom, he was accused by a splendid ruffian in a gold-laced coat of dark-blue satin with a crimson sash, a foot wide, about the waist.

"C'est vous qu'on appelle Le Sang?" the fellow hailed him.

Captain Blood looked up to consider the question before replying.
The man was tall and built on lines of agile strength, with a swarthy, aquiline face that was brutally handsome.

Captain Blood took the pipe-stem from between his lips.

"My name," he said, "is Peter Blood. The Spaniards know me for Don Pedro Sangre, and a Frenchman may call me Le Sang if he pleases."

"Good," said the gaudy adventurer in English. "My name," he informed the three men, two of whom at least were giving him askance, "is Levasseur. You may have heard of me."

They had indeed. He commanded a privateer of twenty guns that had dropped anchor in the bay a week ago. A roaring, quarrelsome, hard-drinking, hard-gambling, accounted his reputation as a buccaneer stood high among the wild Brethren of the Coast. There was about his gaudy, swaggering raffishness something that the women found singularly alluring.

It was current gossip that even Mademoiselle d'Ogeron, the Governor's daughter had been caught in the snare of his wild attractiveness.

This was the man who now thrust himself upon Captain Blood with a proposal of association, offering him not only his sword, but his ship and the men who sailed in her.

Because he disliked the man, Captain Blood would not commit himself at once. But because he liked the proposal, he consented to consider it. The end of the matter was that within a week articles were drawn up between Levasseur and Blood, and signed by them and as was usual by the chosen representatives of their followers.

All being now settled they made ready for sea, and on the very eve of sailing, Levasseur narrowly escaped being shot in a romantic attempt to scale the wall of the Governor's garden, with the object of taking passionate leave of the infatuated Mademoiselle d'Ogeron.

That night he slept on board his ship, which with characteristic flam-boyance he had named La Foudre, and there on the following day he received a visit from Captain Blood, whom he greeted half-mockingly as his admiral. The Irishman came to settle certain final details of which all that need concern us in an understanding that, in the event of the two vessels becoming separated by accident or design, they should rejoin each other as soon as might be at Tortuga.

Thereafter Levasseur entertained his admiral to dinner, and jointly they drank success to the expedition.

CHAPTER XIV Levasseur's Harbors

It would be somewhere about ten o'clock on the following morning, a full hour before the time appointed for sailing, when a canoe brought up alongside La Foudre, and a half-caste Indian stepped out of her and went up the ladder. He was the bearer of a folded scrap of paper for Captain Levasseur.

Its contents may be roughly translated thus:

"My well beloved—I am in the Dutch brig Jongvrouw, which is about to sail. Resolved to separate us forever, my cruel father is sending me to Europe in my brother's charge. I implore you, come to my rescue. Deliver me, my well beloved here—Your desolated Madeline, who loves you."

The well-beloved hero was moved to the soul of him by that passionate appeal. His seething glance swept the bay for the Dutch brig, which he knew had been due to sail for Amsterdam with a cargo of hides and tobacco.

She was nowhere to be seen among the shipping in that narrow, rock-bound harbor. He roared out the question in his mind.

In answer the half-caste pointed out beyond the frothing surf that marked the position of the reef constituting one of the stronghold's main defenses. Away beyond it, a mile or so distant, a sail was standing out to sea.

Cursing in his soul the association into which he had entered, Levas-seur was already studying ways of evasion. Blood would never suffer violence to be done in his presence to a Dutchman; but it might be done in his absence.

Within the hour the Arabella and La Foudre were beating out to sea together. Without understanding the change of plan involved, Captain Blood, nevertheless, accepted it, and weighted anchor before the appointed time upon perceiving his associate to do so.

All day the Dutch brig was in sight, though by evening she had dwindled to the merest speck on the northern horizon. The course prescribed for Blood and Levasseur lay eastward along the northern shores of Hispaniola. To that course the Arabella held steadily through the night, with the result that when day broke again, she was alone. La Foudre under cover of the darkness had struck away to the northeast with every eye of canvas on her wards.

Dawn found La Foudre close on the Dutchman's heels, not a mile astern, and the sight of her very exactly flustered the Jongvrouw. The Dutch ship veered, showed them her rudder, and opened fire.

The small shot went whistling through La Foudre's shrouds with some slight damage to her canvas. Followed a brief running fight in the course of which the Dutchman let fly a broadside.

Five minutes after they were held tight in the clutches of La Foudre's grapnels, and the buccaneers pouring noisily into her waist.

The Dutchman's master, purple in the face, stood forward to beard the pirate, followed closely by an elegant, pale-faced young gentleman in whom Levasseur recognized his brother-in-law elect.

From the quarter rail Mademoiselle d'Ogeron looked down with glowing eyes in breathless wonder upon her well-beloved hero. He saw her, and with a glad shout sprang toward her. The Dutch master got in his way with hands upheld to arrest his progress. Levasseur did not stay to argue with him; he was too impatient to reach his mistress.
He swung the poleaxe that he carried, and the Dutchman went down in blood with a cloven skull. The pale lover stepped across the body and came on, his countenance joyously alight.

But Mademoiselle was shrinking
now, in horror.

You know the song. "I Wish I Could Shimmy Like My Sister Kate," the answer is: You can when you have the Cotton Pickers fox-trot it for you as a dance accompaniment. It's a real one, alive and snappy, and with it the Cotton Pickers record "Got to Cool My Doggies Now," which is far more fetching as a fox-trot than its title would indicate. Try it over and you'll agree.

LABOR ORGANIZED TO GET JUSTICE FOR WORKINGMAN

Henry Ohls Tells Massmeeting That Labor Unions Have Missions

"I know some men will tell you to have nothing to do with organized labor. I don't think they can escape organized labor. It has a mission, and that mission is to remove injustices. We have too many of them. We are determined to go forward. We are going to insist that every working man's child gets an opportunity for the full development of life.

"We want every constitutional right reserved for every worker. We do not only want food, clothing and shelter, but we demand recognition as human beings, and that we are entitled to. Our mission is to remove injustices. Let us join together in that cause and make this a better world."

Such was the declaration of Henry Ohls of Milwaukee, state organizer for the federation of labor in an address on "The Labor Movement" at Trades and Labor hall Thursday evening. The public was invited, but the attendance was small. Fred S. Aylesworth presided.

FEWER OPEN SHOPS

In refuting a statement alleged to have been made by one of the speakers at the master builders convention, Mr. Ohls said:

"The labor movement cannot be destroyed, and I want to say to the master contractors in convention at this time that there will be less open shops next summer than right now; and I want to serve notice on them that it will be useless to try to default the building trades."

In speaking of the controversy out summer between the master builders and labor unions, Mr. Ohls said there had been more unemployment because of that fight than under natural difference and that he was aware that much of the unemployment was due to radical causes.

EFFORT HAS FAILED

"I am here to say," he said, "that effort has failed. They point to certain industries where wages have come down. So far as the stronger organizations are concerned, wages have not come down. In the building trades in a great number of cases wages have not dropped. In some cases wages have been stationary and in other cases they have been increased. We are told now that the men behind that so-called American plan intend to resume it."

Relative to strikes, Mr. Ohls said there were times when it would be a crime to continue to work. He said a strike was a cessation of work; a determination not to do something. He told of a judge who refused to hold further sessions of court until his courtroom was repaired and was out. He recalled members of President Wilson's cabinet who resigned because they could not conscientiously serve their master. Strikes are not always called by that name, he said.

"Never let anyone take away your right to quit advised the speaker. Labor cannot afford to relinquish the right to stop working whenever unduly imposed upon," he said.

Mr. Ohls praised the work of vocational schools and said labor should do everything it can to develop them. He traced their origin to the federation of labor which in 1907 appointed a committee to draft the vocational school bill. Wisconsin was one of the first states to adopt the representative five board plan, he said.

WANTS REPRESENTATION
"We insisted in the legislature of Wisconsin," said the speaker "that labor should have something to say about the conduct of its schools. We wanted a voice as to how these schools should be run."

"These schools are in a fair way of development, but they have many enemies. Some of them are manufacturers, and some of them old fashioned school men. But labor is insisting upon this work and is doing everything possible to support these schools. We want to make them schools of unlimited possibilities."

"We don't confine the vocational school to teaching a little woodwork here and a little woodwork there. We want them to develop to such an extent that any boy or girl can go there. We want them to receive anyone whether a carpenter or machinist. It is our duty to do everything we can to have these schools develop."

Mr. Ohls said the reason there are so few apprentices is because employers do not take time to train them to become craftsmen.

STATE BANK HAS SAME DIRECTORS

Stockholders of Appleton State bank held their annual meeting at the bank building Wednesday and selected the former board of directors. G. A. Zuehlke, H. A. Schmidt, B. J. Zuehlke, Gustave Keller, and A. H. Krugmeyer. The meeting of directors to elect new officers was postponed until a later date because of the absence from town of two members of the board.

INCOME TAX WILL TOTAL $125,000 IN CITY THIS YEAR

Surplus Incomes Must Yield Up Fees To Bachman By
Feb. 1, 1923

Appleton taxpayers, in addition to being punished by state, county, city and school district for owning property, are meekly submitting to further chastisement because they happen to be earning an income.

Feed Bachman, city treasurer, besides collecting the taxpayers' membership fees, also is relieving them of the burden of surplus incomes. Unless one's income is within the bounds of the law, or unless one's personal property is sufficient to atone for the size of one's income tax there seems to be no way of avoiding this ceremony.

The total income tax warrant, not including the surtax, amounts to $125,578.65, and with the surtax added amounts to $155,017.73.

Menthio Sulphur, a pleasant cream will soothe and heal skin that is irritated or broken out with eczema that is covered with ugly rash or pimples, or is rough or dry. Nothing soothes fiery skin eruptions so quickly, says a noted skin specialist.

The menthol sulphur preparation is applied the itching stops and after two or three applications, the eczema is gone and the skin is delightfully clear and smooth. Sulphur is so precious as a skin remedy because it destroys the parasites that cause the burning, itching or disgusting eruption. Menthio Sulphur always heals eczema right up.

A small jar of Menthio Sulphur may be had at any good drug store.

gregates $155,017.73. The straight educational bonus surtax for the city totals $6,082.50, and the tax for the teachers retirement fund is $5,068.44.

In addition, local corporations are expected to pay a soldier bonus tax of $5,094.91, an educational bonus tax of $7,328.24 and a tax for the teacher's retirement fund of $6,764.99.

Not all of this tax will be collected, however, since the personal property tax, always an uncertain item, offsets the income tax if it is larger. If the taxpayer has both income tax and personal property tax to pay, he is to pay the larger of the two.

Of the total amount collected, the city receives 76 per cent, the county 30 per cent and the state 10 per cent. All income taxes must be paid to the city treasurer before Jan. 31, after which a 2 per cent collection fee will be charged, as on other taxes, if not paid.

ON THE SCREEN

BRILLIANT ACTING JOINED WITH LIVELY COMEDY PLOT

Charles Ray has contributed another brilliant comedy to the screen. It is "Alias Julius Caesar," which opened a two day run at the Elite theater today.

In addition to his own directing and always capable acting, the star has found a story that unfolds numerous humorous possibilities and carries its plot with it. First as a society clubman and then as a supposedly escaped lunatic, the star lets not a single chance pass by to work in a new gag or a humorous character.

Billie Ramey, suburban golfer, is taken up by the police as an escaped lunatic. By convincing the colored attendant that he is really giving his colimate the third degree he makes his escape, the colimate going with him. Congratulating himself on his good fortune in being on time, Ray turns up at the ball at the country club that evening only to find his colimate, a society crook, there before him.

Before the story can wind to a climax in a call for the police the star has undergone the torments of gangdom in becoming an enforced accomplice to the crook. The situation paves the way to numberless events which highly laughable in their own manner of depiction, would be spoiled by the telling.

Barbara Bedford gives excellent support as leading woman. The remainder of a large and capable cast include William Scott, Robert Fernandez, Fred Miller, Eddie Gribbon, Tom Wilson, Harvey Clark, Gus Thomas, Milton Ross, S. J. Bingham, Philip Dunham and Bert Offord.

"THE GOOD PROVIDER" FINE

which it resembles in appeal is "The Good Provider," a Cosmopolitan Paramount picture production now on view at Fischer's Appleton Theatre. Vera Gordon and Doug Davidson, who had the principal roles in "Humoresque," are featured. The cast is exceptionally fine.

E-A-CO Guaranteed Always All Right

Our customers who use E-A-CO Flour have thanked us many times for recommending this splendid flour. We attribute this satisfaction to the following:

E-A-CO Flour is milled from the cream of sweet, sound healthy wheat kernels—the kind that nature intended you to have to build bone and muscle. It is uniformly granulated so that each particle of flour has exactly the same proportion of gluten. This insures a high, light, even loaf of bread every time you bake.

And, further, every sack is guaranteed to make more and better bread with a richer, creamy-white color and silky texture or your money is promptly refunded. Phone us today, please.

Here's One Worth Remembering---

—at least, we think so. The motto habit is often overdone, but we saw one the other day we can't resist repeating. It hangs over a busy man's desk and reads:

"Get It Right the First Time"

Nothing is more important in buying Meat or Groceries than getting just what you want the first time you order it.

With this thought in mind we are always endeavoring to give our patrons just what they want, so that there will be no disappointments when their package of Meat is opened and ready for the cooking.

SEVEN EVENTS ON JONES PARK SKATING PROGRAM

TWO DISTRICTS PICK ELIGIBLES FOR CITY MEET

First Preliminary Tournament To Be Held In Jones Park On Sunday

ORDER OF EVENTS
440 yard dash for First ward senior or men
220 yard dash for Jones park intermediate boys
100 yard dash for First ward middle boys
220 yard dash for First ward intermediate boys
440 yard dash for Jones park intermediate boys
Mile race for First ward senior men
440 yard dash for First ward intermediate boys

The program for the elimination skating tournament on the Jones Park rink in which skaters from the First ward and Jones park districts will compete, is printed at the head of this column. Races will be held only in these events in which it is necessary to hold elimination contests in order to select the three skaters which will represent the districts in the finals for the city championship races on Jan. 28. In events in which three or less are entered no elimination races are necessary and all the entrants in these events are eligible to take part in the finals.

GIRLS ALL ELIGIBLE

No elimination races will be necessary in the senior division for girls in either the First ward or Jones park districts as much as there are three or less entered in each event. There were four girls entered in the 550 yard dash for Jones park but Miss Verona Maurer was withdrawn because of an injured foot. The remaining three girls and the girls entered in the other senior division events in both districts are eligible to take part in the finals.

No elimination races will be necessary in the 550 yard dash backward race for intermediates in the First ward and Jones park districts, intermediate division races for girls in both districts, 220 yard dash for middle boys in the First ward district or in the 100 and 220 yard dashes for middle boys in the Jones park district.

Skaters should remember that if the events in which they are entered are not listed on the program for next Sunday that they are automatically eligible to compete in the finals and should be on hand to take part in the races.

START AT 1 O'CLOCK

The races will begin promptly at 1 o'clock and skaters should be at the Jones park rink by 12:45 and report to H. D. McChesney, race manager. Announcement will be made in plenty of time before each event so that the skaters will be in readiness for the start. Numbers will be given to each skater to wear on his back and contestants will draw for positions on the starting mark. Flags will mark the four inside corners of the race course and skaters who attempt to "cut corners" will be disqualified. Four patrol judges will watch the corners to see that there is no violation of the rules. If a skater falls within 30 feet of the starting line the race will start again. If a skater falls beyond the 30 foot mark he must take his own chances in the race.

The races will be run off as rapidly as possible so there will be no long waits. Contestants are expected to be ready to lineup the instant the announcer calls them together. They must respond to their names when the announcer calls the roll of skaters entered in each event.

No skaters except those entered in the race will be permitted on the race course and the space in the center of the course will be reserved for officials.

KEEP OFF BRIDGE

Every person in Appleton is invited to witness the contests. Jones park offers splendid facilities for watching the races. Police officials, however, have requested that people refrain from congregating on the Lawrence street bridge because that structure cannot hold up the heavy weight of a large crowd. Spectators are urged to find places near the edge of the rink. Many hundreds of people can be accommodated nicely.

High School Basket Team And Oshkosh To Clash Here Tonight

Doubleheader Awaits Blue And Orange Fans—Three Important Games On Tap In Valley Race

CONFERENCE STANDING

TEAM	W.	L.	Pct.

TONIGHT'S GAMES
Oshkosh at Appleton.
West Green Bay at Fond du Lac.
East Green Bay at Manitowoc.

Appleton high school basketball followers will be treated to a double header Friday night in Armory G and at the same time will see the Blue and Orange perform for the first time this season on a home floor.

Tuned to the finest point, Coach Denney and his squad completed the last hard drill Thursday night and finished off with some basket shooting practice late Friday afternoon.

APPLETON IS FAVORITE

Appleton's victory last week over West Green Bay by a 22 to 8 score has placed the Appletonians favorites among the leaders despite Oshkosh's clean slate with its preconference affairs. However it really isn't safe to make any predictions for this affair.

Playing will start at 7:15 with the second teams of both schools vying for certain honors. The main affair will start about 8:15. A capacity crowd is expected.

Coach Denney's leadership through the football season has whether the appetites of sport lovers Appleton's good start in the Fox River Valley High School Athletic conference is giving the followers hopes for a championship team.

The Blue and Orange probably will start with this lineup: Mills and Heideman, forwards; Ashman, center; Brice and Hagen, guards; Oshkosh players will be Reed, Hotchkiss, Adams, Parnsch, Novotny and Strubweg.

The "curtain raising" game by the second team is something new. With an overabundance of especially good basketballers Coach Denney has a second team that isn't a long way from the first. Starting out for the second team will be Kohl and Courtney forwards; Hillman, center; Lutz and Hornbeck, guards. The reserve will have "Bob" Bonini of football fame, Sullivan and Voight.

The Mascoutens, cellar champs, topped two games from the winners. The Navajos had a easy time taking three from the Hurons.

OTTO SHOOT 284

What is believed to be the highest official score rolled this season in Appleton was howled Thursday night by "Jack" Otto in a game for the Mascoutens of the Elks Thursday Night league.

Otto's record marker was 284. The trick was accomplished while the ten pin star and his teammates were engaged in making up several games in addition to the matches scheduled for the evening.

Otto had the "gallery" on its toes when it became known that he was on his last frame without a single miss. After getting ten consecutive strikes he threw the eleventh ball clipping only six pins. His next ball gave him 3 more pins.

In a following game Otto shot 200.

Coming. The Navajos are on top and until the next two runners-up have made up the six games they are behind the fate of the league leaders is in the air.

The Mascoutens, cellar champs, topped two games from the winners. The Navajos had a easy time taking three from the Hurons.

The high score of the evening was made by Nolan, leadoff man for the Quinneys. He spilled 576 in three games.

Lawrence Basketball Team Loses Grover; Play Ripon Tonight

Blue And White Virtually Without Center As Star Cager Plans To Quit School—Face Stiff Battle

Elmer Grover, member of the Blue and White gridiron eleven of 1922 and star center in the two basketball games played by McChesney's quintet this season, has been eliminated from the Lawrence college athletic activities—for the rest of the year at least.

News of the removal of Grover from the basketball team, due to scholastic difficulties, comes on the eve of the opening of the first Little Five game and leaves the Blue and White virtually without a center. Grover will leave Lawrence at the end of the semester. Like many college students he is working his way through and he finds that he must seek steady employment. Whether Grover will re-enter school next year is unknown.

AT RIPON TONIGHT

Coach McChesney and the team left for Ripon Friday afternoon where they are to engage Sundt's basketballers in the evening. This will be the first Little Five game of the season and eyes of Badger sportsmen will be directed on Ripon.

Sundt's charges, though beaten by Augustana by two points, are in good shape despite the loss of Egda and Ludwig. Augustana had a much stronger team than the Riponers anticipated and the victory for the Suckers came in the last moment.

TWO FOR CENTER

Coach McChesney will depend upon Collins and Cook, subcenters, to fill the shoes of Grover. With Grover out of the game the brunt of the battle will rest on the shoulders of Captain Bashir, who will play at guard, and Karl, forward. Other men who are expected to start in the Crimson game will be Sund, forward and Christoph.

In the reserve will be Jacobson, Collins, Puchner, Hubert, Kubitz and Zussman, forwards; Smith, Olson and Walker, guards.

Jacobson's appearance this week at the gymnasium has added strength to the McChesney caging machine. Jacobson was star on the Appleton high school five and can always be depended on for a host of baskets.

Coming. The Navajos are on top and until the next two runners-up have made up the six games they are behind the fate of the league leaders is in the air.

The Mascoutens, cellar champs, topped two games from the winners. The Navajos had a easy time taking three from the Hurons.
